

Speaker: Dr. W. Stephen Wilson, Johns Hopkins University

Title: The Changing Math Wars in the US

Abstract:

The majority of states in the USA have accepted the Common Core State Standards for Mathematics (CCSSM). This makes for a fixed playing field for the US math wars as they progress towards common assessments. There are two large consortia of states preparing assessments in mathematics. This is where everyone's last stand will take place in the US math wars. The talk will discuss the USA math war landscape looking forward.